Much of Pontprennau has been built in recent decades, and it is easy to assume that a newer house means a roof you never have to think about. The reality in north east Cardiff is a little different. Additional reading Welsh weather is hard on every roof, old or new, with driving rain, Atlantic winds and freeze-thaw cycles testing tiles, ridges and verges year after year. Redland Roofing Cardiff is an independent, family-run business based in Rumney, a short drive from Pontprennau, and has been looking after roofs across Cardiff and South East Wales for over 30 years. Newer estates have their own set of roofing issues. A ridge tile can work loose after a stormy winter, a dry verge section can crack or come away, and a single slipped tile is enough to let water creep under the covering. Gutters blocked with leaves and moss can overflow and soak walls and fascias, while the flashing where a roof meets a wall or skylight can crack and start a slow leak. None of these problems are unusual, and most of them are repair jobs rather than anything bigger. As experienced roofers Cardiff residents trust, the team will tell you honestly when a repair will do and will never push a replacement you do not need. The process is straightforward. Someone comes out to assess the roof, explains what is going on in plain terms and shows you photos of the problem so you can see it for yourself. Customers often mention John by name for exactly this reason. You then get a free, no-obligation written quote with transparent pricing and no hidden costs. As a rough guide from the company's own FAQ, minor repairs such as replacing a few broken tiles start from around £150 to £300, but every roof is different, so the quote is what counts. Reviews regularly mention next-day repairs, which suits busy households in Pontprennau, Pentwyn and Old St Mellons.

Every quote is free and written down before any work starts, so there are no surprises. How can I tell a dodgy roofer from a good one? Be wary of anyone who knocks on the door uninvited, pushes for cash up front or claims the whole roof needs replacing without showing you why. A reputable Cardiff roofer will give a written quote, explain the guarantee, confirm they are insured and show you photos of the problem. Redland Roofing Cardiff do all of this as standard on every job. Who are some reputable roofers in Cardiff? Look for an established local firm with a long track record and plenty of genuine reviews. A roofer who recommends a repair rather than an unnecessary replacement is usually a good sign. What questions should I ask my roofer before work starts? Ask what exactly is wrong and how they know, what the written quote includes, how long the job will take, whether they are insured and what guarantee you get. For a full re-roof, ask how the house will be kept dry overnight. Redland Roofing Cardiff leave roofs watertight at the end of every working day and give a clear timeline before starting. How long does a roof last in Wales? Welsh rain, coastal winds and freeze-thaw cycles all shorten roof life. A well-installed concrete or clay tile roof can last 40 to 60 years with maintenance, and good slate can outlast the building. Felt flat roofs tend to last 10 to 15 years, while EPDM rubber, which Redland Roofing Cardiff specialise in, can last 25 to 30 years or more. What usually causes a roof to leak? The most common culprits on Cardiff homes are slipped or missing tiles, cracked flashing around chimneys, blocked gutters, worn valleys and failed lead joints. On extensions and garages, flat roofs often leak where the surface has cracked or a joint has opened. Redland Roofing Cardiff trace the source first so you only pay to fix the
