By opting for clear braces from your Edinburgh dentist, you're not just improving your smile; you're investing in a healthier future.

Comfort is key when it comes to dental appliances. Traditional metal braces often cause discomfort due to sharp edges and wires that can irritate the mouth's soft tissues. In contrast, clear braces are designed to fit comfortably against your gums and teeth.

Reduced Discomfort Equals Higher Compliance

Patients frequently report experiencing less pain with clear aligners compared to traditional options. This increased comfort level translates into better compliance with wearing retainers or aligners consistently—a crucial factor for successful orthodontic outcomes.
