Even minor auto accidents can result in serious injuries due to the sudden impact and force exerted on the body. Some of the most common injuries include:

- Whiplash: A neck injury caused by rapid back-and-forth movement of the head, often leading to stiffness, pain, and reduced mobility.
- Spinal Injuries: Misalignments or damage to the vertebrae can cause pain, nerve compression, and reduced range of motion.
- Soft Tissue Injuries: Sprains, strains, and muscle tears often occur due to the impact of a collision.
- Chronic Pain: Left untreated, these injuries can develop into chronic issues that affect your daily life.
