What Makes a CS: GO Case "Rare"?

Nevertheless, as new cases are introduced, older ones are undoubtedly relocated to the Rare Drop Pool (frequently informally described as the "discontinued" or "legacy" pool).

- The Active Drop Pool: Cases that presently drop to players weekly. Drop rates are high, keeping market costs fairly low (typically under a couple of dollars).
- The Rare Drop Pool: Cases that no longer drop actively. The only method these enter circulation is through the exceptionally low-probability end-of-match drops (estimated at less than 1%) or from gamers opening their old stocks.

Once a case gets in the uncommon swimming pool, its supply becomes strictly limited. As more gamers open them, the total variety of unopened cases reduces. Standard economics takes over: as supply diminishes and need stays constant or rises, the price skyrockets.
