

New Albany is known for larger, multi-story homes that offer significant space but also present specific challenges during a move. Manifest Moving Columbus has worked with many families relocating into these properties and understands the planning required to move heavy furniture safely between floors.

A Moving Company in Columbus OH handling a multi-story home needs additional crew members, careful staircase navigation, and a plan for protecting both the furniture and the property itself.

Why Multi-Story Homes Require Extra Planning

Staircases add complexity to any move, increasing the physical demands on the crew and the risk of damage to walls, railings, or flooring if not handled carefully. Manifest Moving Company assesses staircase width, turns, and landing space during the estimate process to plan accordingly.

Homes in New Albany often include finished basements or upper-level bonus rooms, meaning furniture sometimes needs to travel through multiple levels rather than a single straightforward path.

Protecting Floors and Walls During the Move

Moving furniture up or down multiple flights of stairs increases the risk of scuffed walls or damaged flooring. Manifest Movers in Columbus OH use floor runners and corner protectors on staircases and hallways to reduce this risk throughout the move.

This protective approach matters especially in newer New Albany homes where finishes and flooring represent a significant investment for homeowners.

Crew Size and Equipment Considerations

Multi-story homes often require additional crew members compared to a single-level property, since navigating stairs safely with heavy furniture takes more coordination. manifest movers in columbus oh Columbus OH Movers plan crew size based on the number of levels and the types of furniture involved.

Specialty equipment like stair-climbing dollies can also help move heavier items such as refrigerators or large dressers without excessive strain on the crew or risk to the property.

Planning for Furniture That Does Not Fit Easily

Some larger furniture pieces present challenges on staircases with tight turns. Manifest Moving Columbus evaluates these situations in advance, sometimes recommending partial disassembly to navigate difficult spaces safely.

This kind of proactive planning helps avoid delays or damage that can occur when large items get stuck mid-move.

Multi-story homes in New Albany require extra planning, but the right crew can manage these challenges smoothly. Families preparing for this kind of move can learn more by visiting Manifest Moving to plan ahead for a staircase-heavy relocation.
